Specialized Experience: Experience in one or any combination of human resources functions; i.e., recruitment, placement, examination, position classification, pay or wage administration, employee management relations services, employee development, personnel program development, personnel research, and labor relations.

Such experience must show ability to deal satisfactorily with fellow workers and operating personnel, to recognize problems in the operation of a human resources program, to suggest practical solutions, and otherwise to accept substantive responsibility in the field of human resources administration. Clerical and technical experience in a human resources program involving work which is limited to the application of human resources rules, regulations, and procedures in support of the human resources functions described above is not qualifying.

Staff Specialist Experience: Applicants must have had either staff specialist or supervisory experience of the type and quality described below:

A. Staff Specialist Experience: Human resources and/or labor relations specialist experience performing work regularly encompassing difficult and complex situations and problems with responsibility for furnishing advisory services to management in the overall aspects of program development and evaluation; or human resources specialist and/or labor relations experience performing extensive and intensive work on the most complex and difficult assignments in program development and evaluation, development of new and revised procedures, review of working situations to assure that departments are following guidelines for sound human resources practices, development of legislative proposals or analysis of the impact of proposed legislation, and conduct of research aimed towards improving the human resources administration system.

B. Supervisory Experience: Work experience which demonstrated the applicant's knowledge of and ability to apply the principles, practices, techniques and methods of supervision including: (1) planning, organizing and directing the work of others; (2) assigning and reviewing work; (3) advising others on difficult work problems; (4) timing and scheduling work; and (5) training and developing employees.

Administrative Experience: Experience in the field of human resources and/or labor relations which involved active participation in and major responsibility for the development, management, execution, and coordination of policies, activities, and programs. *For Human Resources Manager positions, administrative aptitude rather than actual administrative experience may be accepted. Administrative aptitude will be considered to have been met for this level when there is strong affirmative evidence of the necessary administrative aptitudes and abilities. Such evidence may be in the form of success in regular or special assignments or projects which involve administrative matters (e.g., in planning, organizing, promoting, and directing a program providing staff advice and assistance); managerial interest demonstrated by the performance of work assignments in a manner which clearly indicates awareness of managerial problems and the ability to solve them; completion of educational or training courses in management accompanied by the application of principles learned to work assignments; management's observation and evaluation of the applicant's leadership and managerial capabilities; success in trial assignments involving managerial and/or administrative tasks.

Substitutions Allowed:

Substitution of Education for Experience:

1. Possession of a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university in human resources administration or a major in human resources management which included at least 15 semester credit hours or coursework covering recruitment; selection; job evaluation; wage, salary and benefits administration; managerial leadership in employee relations and services; organizational management; labor laws and labor relations may be substituted for six (6) months of the specialized experience.

2. Possession of a master's degree from an accredited college or university in human resources administration or with a concentration in human resources management (HRM) with a minimum of 15 graduate credit hours in HRM coursework may be substituted for one (1) year of the specialized experience.

3. Possession of a Ph.D. degree from an accredited college or university in human resources administration or human resources management may be substituted for two (2) years of specialized experience.

Substitution of Staff Specialist/Supervisory Experience for Specialized Experience: Excess staff specialist/supervisory experience may be substituted for specialized experience on a year-for-year basis.

Quality of Experience:

Possession of the required number of years of experience will not in itself be accepted as proof of qualification for a position. The applicant's overall experience must have been of such scope and level of responsibility as to conclusively demonstrate that he/she has the ability to perform the duties of the position for which he/she is being considered.

Selective Certification:

Specialized knowledge, skills and abilities may be required to perform the duties of some positions. In such positions, applicants may be restricted to those who possess the pertinent experience and/or training required to perform the duties of the position.

Departments requesting selective certification must show the connection between the kind of training and/or experience on which they wish to base selective certification and the duties of the position to be filled.

Physical Requirements:

Applicants must be physically able to perform, efficiently and effectively, the essential duties of the position which typically require the ability to read without strain printed material the size of typewritten characters, glasses permitted, and the ability to hear the conversational voice, with or without a hearing aid, or the ability to compensate satisfactorily. Disabilities in these or other areas will not automatically result in disqualification. Those applicants who demonstrate that they are capable of performing the essential functions of the position will not be disqualified under this section.

Any condition which would cause applicants to be a hazard to themselves or others is cause for disqualification.

Any disqualification under this section will be made only after a review of all pertinent information including the results of the medical examination, and requires the approval of the VP/Director of Human Resources.

Mental/Emotional Requirements:

All applicants must possess emotional and mental stability appropriate to the job duties and responsibilities and working conditions.
